

FELLOWSHIP

Meet

the Inaugural Class of DIA Fellows, 2021

John Angelle, Dean of Student Life - Middle School and Middle School Social Studies

Teacher at Holy Spirit Preparatory School, Atlanta, GA

Project: Collaborating with educators who are promoting the faith among their students and wider school community while investigating effective Catholic leadership styles providing a deeper infusion of faith.

Tami Goy, Pastoral Minister at Saint Joseph High School, South Bend, IN

Project: Discover and learn new ways of providing encounters with the living God in my own school.

Grover T. Green, Teacher, Head of House System & Assistant Director of Campus Ministry--Retreat

Coordinator at St. Thomas High School, Houston, TX

Project: Equipping staff and faculty with tools to maintain and pass on the Catholic identity and charisms of our school.

Christopher Harrington, Director of Admissions at JSerra Catholic High School, San Juan Capistrano, CA

Project: Exploring mission-orientated community structures that can help us to further the personal formation of students, families, and staff. I will apply a comprehensive focus across school departments, providing families with the tools to establish a living and sustained domestic church.

Angie Jakubik, Theology Department Chair at Ursuline Academy of Dallas, TX

Project: Investigating how theology teachers might blend personalized learning approaches with best practices of Catholic evangelization in order to better accompany our students along their journeys of faith.

Austin Krause, Theology Teacher at St. James Academy in Lenexa, KS

Project: Weaving the faith into students or colleagues' lives and growing my leadership abilities at the same time.

Angela Odinet, Assistant Headmaster at John Paul the Great Academy, Lafayette, LA

Project: Emboldening my leadership skills as I move into the Headmistress position in 2021-2022 is my priority, so that I can continue to infuse the faith in our school community.

Maura Strickland, Coordinator of Faith Formation at Hayden Catholic High School, Topeka, KS

Project: Shifting the culture of a traditional school to preserve its Catholic identity.

Mary Vulcani, Coordinator of Campus Ministry at Holy Family High School, Broomfield, CO

Project: Enhancing the beauty of sacred spaces after a major renovation at our school, to compliment the recently redesigned Theology curriculum.

Joe Walberg, Social Studies Teacher at St. James Academy in Lenexa, KS

Project: Evangelize my students and help other teachers do the same, not just on my campus but with teachers from other Catholic schools.
